The program will consist of presentations of results and updates of drainage research projects from across the U.S. The final agenda is being developed and will be available soon.

The program is intended for all drainage stakeholders, including state and federal agency staff, county supervisors, crop consultants, academics, contractors, farmers, and others interested in drainage issues and research topics in the upper Midwest.

This year's forum will be held via Zoom and you can register using the link provided within.

Please circulate or forward this announcement, at your discretion, to others who may be interested.

We hope to see you there.

Sincerely,

Gary Sands and Lindsay Pease, University of Minnesota Extension
Matt Helmers, Iowa State University Extension and Outreach
John McMaine, South Dakota State University Extension
Chris Hay, Iowa Soybean Association
